

Churches Together in Cornwall

Team Coordinator

Person Specification

We are looking for a volunteer with:

- The enthusiasm to encourage and facilitate Christians working together in a wide variety of contexts; some prior understanding and experience of the ecumenical scene, including the ecumenical structures in Britain, would be helpful, but can be developed 'on the job'.
- Good listening skills and a readiness to work with lay and ordained Christians, both church leaders and congregations, from different traditions
- Good organisational skills and a liking for team working, coupled with the ability to work independently when needed
- IT skills and access to a good internet connection – most work is done online; currently, many meetings are on Zoom
- A readiness to travel to and present at events and meetings within Cornwall and further afield as required

The Team Coordinator will work closely and share tasks with the CTC Steering Group. Duties are flexible and can be tailored to the interests and experience of the postholder.

A DBS check is not required, but references will be requested and taken up. The post is available to anyone, lay or ordained, with a passion for Christian unity.
