Don't forget National Sports Sunday on May 14

Date: 03 May 2023 11:03:50

Dear friend

Well, this is the month we've all been waiting for!

Not only do we have the coronation of King Charles, but it's National Sports Sunday a few days later on May 14!

This is the day when we come together and celebrate the community of sport and the incredible opportunities that arise in this space, the greatest untapped mission field in the world.

So what's happening on National Sports Sunday?

Well, churches from all streams and denominations are coming together for what is the sixth National Sports Sunday. A number of resources are available here at our website and we'd love your church to get involved. Some churches are taking time in their services to pray for the community of sport - would you consider doing the same?

Whatever you're doing, please get in touch with us as we'd love to celebrate with you.

Meanwhile, myself and some of our great supporters are taking part in the Five Peak Challenge in the run-up to National Sports Sunday, where we are climbing five mountains in five days. If you'd like to sponsor us and keep up with our challenge, check it out here. I recently did several podcast interview with Dr Allan Johnson looking at the five mountains of mental health. Check them out on our website.

Please pray for us this month, we appreciate every one of you so much!

Every Blessing,

Warren Evans,
