September: It's a big year

Dear All,

It's September and suddenly everything appears to be busy!

Last week, Hope Together launched our Year of Mission. We're excited about all the year will bring.

We have a new resource. You all loved Hope in Uncertain Times and as the times are less uncertain but still really hard for so many, we have reworked this great little resource into Hope in Hard Times.

We know that for many, this September isn't easy, so let's reach out again together this year with the love and hope of Jesus in these challenging times.

Enjoy.
