

From: Climate Justice Coalition
To: ctcinfohub@gmail.com
Subject: Now's the time to get your ticket for We Make Tomorrow in London
Date: 08 November 2023 17:37:46

We Make Tomorrow: our conference on building workers' power on climate and crisis!

The climate crisis is defining politics and economics in this century, affecting working people in countless ways — from rising prices and food shortages, to industrial shifts, and natural disasters. The transition is already underway, but it's primarily led by corporate interests, often at the expense of workers.

Now, more than ever, we must build workers' power, halt industrial pollution, and lead a transition that is fair and worker-led.

Join us for our one-day conference in London to bring together trade union and climate justice activists, build our knowledge and make plans to win climate justice.

Register for a ticket now!

We've also announced speakers and session details for We Make Tomorrow. We'll be joined by union leaders including Sarah Woolley (Bakers, Food & Allied Workers Union), John Moloney (Public & Commercial Services Union), as well as Nicholas Beuret (University of Essex) and Asah Rehman (War on Want) — among many more!

Check out our website to find out more:

Find out more about We Make Tomorrow

And we're inviting everyone to join our online pre-event for We Make Tomorrow: Winning Climate Justice for Auto Workers

A ground breaking strike by 46,000 members of the US United Auto Workers (UAW) is taking on the "Big 3" car firms and winning, including on climate justice, while union activism in the UK has secured more sustainable jobs for auto workers at Ellesmere Port.

At 7:30pm on Friday, join US and UK auto workers, including speakers from UAW and Unite, to discuss the lessons and hopes for a Just Transition for auto workers:

Sign up for your free ticket now!

Sent via ActionNetwork.org. To update your email address, change your name or address, or to stop receiving emails from Climate Justice Coalition, please click here.

