Hi Ctc,

There's still time to join a special group of campaigners shaping the future of Fairtrade. Apply before 02 October to join the National Campaigner Committee and help build a future that's fair for everyone.

Apply to join the National Campaigner Committee

Full details in our original email below. Applying only takes a few minutes.

Hi Ctc.

People like you - who are passionate about ending unfair trade - are the reason our Fairtrade movement exists. You are a big part of why Fairtrade has gone from strength to strength over the past 30 years.

Now you can be part of shaping the future of Fairtrade campaigning.

Apply to join the National Campaigner Committee \(NCC\) to speak up for campaigners in your area, scrutinise the work of the Fairtrade Foundation, and build your own fantastic fair trade campaigns.

Applications are open until 02 October.

Apply to join the National Campaigner Committee

What is the National Campaigner Committee (NCC)?

The National Campaigner Committee has played a big part in powering the UK's network of community campaigners.

The NCC makes sure the voices of all Fairtrade campaigners are heard. Members work with us at the Fairtrade Foundation so we understand what campaigners across the country need to make a difference in their area.

The National Campaigner Committee (NCC) is also a formal member of the Fairtrade Foundation but acts independently. The Fairtrade Foundation will provide administrative support, but NCC members are free and encouraged to run their own campaigns.

Becoming a member of the NCC will also be a great opportunity to get to know your fellow campaigners.

You will get the chance to meet other like-minded people, learn more about their experiences, and collaborate and share ideas on how to deliver the fairer future we all want.

Who should apply?

Anyone can apply to join the National Campaigner Committee. Whether you are brand new to Fairtrade or have years of experience - we want to hear from you.

The NCC aims to represent the full diversity of the Fairtrade movement. Regional representatives ensure we hear about issues that matter to you and your community. Whether you have campaigned with your local community group, school, university or independently, there could be a space on the NCC for you.

Additional members with relevant skills, experiences and insights can also be appointed to the NCC by existing members. So please add any extra details you would like to share on the form.

We welcome all applicants!

Even if your application is not successful, there will be other opportunities to support Fairtrade's work and every application will be read personally. So please do express an interest if you would like to become more of an active member of the movement.

How will the process work?

As the application deadline is 02 October, you should find out the outcome of your application at some point in October.

All applications will be assessed by existing NCC members. You can find more details about the process and the NCC on our website.

We look forward to hearing from you. If you have any additional questions or want to know more about the application process, you can email hello@fairtrade.org.uk and we'll be happy to help.

Many thanks,

Sam
